NORMAN ENGLEMAN

Dies Suddenly in His Room at the National Hotel Sunday.

Was One of this City's Best Known Men.

Mr. Norman Engleman, a clerk at the National Hotel died in his room quite suddenly Sunday afternoon about 8 o'clock of acute indigestion. Although he had not been feeling well for several days his condition was not thought to be critical and his death coming suddenly as it did, will be quite a shock to his many friends. Mr. Engleman came to this city about fifteen years ago from Louisville and had been employed at the National Hotel since that time, having first worked there when Harlan Turner ran the hotel. He was one of the best known men in Mt. Sterling, was big hearted, polite and courteous to all, thereby making countless friends who mourn his loss. Mr. Engleman was 47 years of age.

His brother and sister arrived here on the noon train Monday and took his remains to Georgetown, Ind., where they were laid to rest.

Six O'clock Dinner.

Miss Lucy May Eubank entertained with a six o'clock dinner at her home on Johnson avenue, Thursday evening, in honor of her guests, Misses Frances Strode and Anna Carroll, of Winchester. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants, the color scheme of yellow and green being carried out in the decorations, cakes, ices, etc. Those present besides the guests of honor were Misses Julie Rodman, Catherine Stofer, Cynthia Thompson, Francis Samuels, Lelia Owings, Martha Frances Reed and Elizabeth McCoun.

County Attorney E. W. Senff

Defines Qualifications of a Legal Voter.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., July 29, 1913.
To the Election Officers, Candidates and Voters of Montgomery County:

Several candidates and a number of election officers have requested me to define the qualifications of a voter in next Saturday's State Primary, and in the hope that I may be able to render a public service by so doing, I will say that there are three recognized political parties—Democratic, Republican and Progressive, and since we have no Progressive ticket in Montgomery county none other than Democrats and Republicans can participate in the State Primary.

Section 19 of the law provides as follows:

"In addition to the special qualifications hereinafter prescribed, the same qualifications of electors shall apply in primary elections held under this act, as are now required in regular elections. Said qualifications shall be determined as of the date of the primary, without regard to the qualifications or disqualifications as they may exist at the succeeding regular election. In precincts where registration is required, no elector, except those entitled to be specially registered as hereinafter provided, shall be entitled to vote in any primary unless he is registered in the registration book of said precinct for the preceding year, as affiliating with the party whose ballot he offers to vote. If so registered he shall be entitled to vote the ballot of the party with which he is registered and no other. In other precincts qualified electors shall be allowed to vote only the ballot of that party with which they declare their affiliation."

That is, one must have lived in the State one year, the county six months and the precinct sixty days immediately prior to August 2nd. This unfortunately excludes many good citizens who moved to this county from other counties, March 1st, and all young men who are not twenty-one years of age, but will be before the November election, as the law plainly requires one to be a legal voter on next Saturday to be entitled to vote.

In the City of Mt. Sterling the registration governs and a person registered as a Democrat is not entitled to and should not receive a Republican ballot; likewise, a Republican is not entitled to and should not receive a Democratic ballot.

In the country, where registration is not required, the law is ambiguous and will doubtless be open to abuses.

GREAT MONTGOMERY COUNTY FAIR

Closed a Successful Meeting in This City Saturday Afternoon--Great Racing a Feature of the Meeting.

Crowds Were Large, Show Rings Well Filled and Interesting. Poultry Exhibit Best in the State.

The Montgomery County Fair closed Saturday afternoon after a most successful meeting, due to the untiring efforts of the President, Board of Directors and W. Hoffman Wood, the hustling Secretary. During the four days we had some splendid racing, and we honestly believe our show rings were as good as could be seen anywhere in the world; in fact we heard a number of leading horsemen say they had never seen better show rings anywhere. The crowds were large but orderly and everything passed off as smoothly as clock work.

FIRST DAY.

The Montgomery County Fair saw a good crowd and fine exhibits on their opening day. In the aged saddle class Mat S. Cohen, of Lexington, was the victor on Emerald Ray, owned by Ray Moss, of this county. In the champion two-year-old five gaited class Cohen again won with Red Delight and in the yearling filly ring Thurman & Peters won with Col. Osborne, defeating Bourbon Star and Ethel Mac.

The races afforded a strong feature, the 2:25 pacing race being hotly contested. It was won by Helen Mac, owned by John D. Greenwade.

SECOND DAY.

This was Lexington day at the big fair and notwithstanding the heavy rain about 4,000 people attended. The show rings were excellent. In the $1,000 five-gaited championship class there were six entries. First prize was awarded to Hazel Dawn, owned by Matlack & Shropshire and ridden by Billy Shropshire, second to Mary Yandall Fox, owned by Mrs. R. T. Lowndes, Jr., and shown by Mat S. Cohen and third to Princess V., ridden by Allie Jones. Fourth money was given to Maple Leaf, ridden by Charles Wells, and The Black Whirlwind, shown by Press Ray, was placed fifth. Roan Mary, owned by McCray & Caywood, was out of the money.

In the three-gaited championship class first money was awarded to Lula Marion, owned by McCray & Caywood and shown by Robert McCray, second to Astral Queen, owned by E. K. Good Roads Committee Doing Good Work.

The committee appointed by the Business Men's Club to solicit funds from the business men and citizens of Mt. Sterling toward the expense of constructing the Maysville pike from Mt. Sterling to Sharpsburg, began work Monday and are meeting with considerable encouragement, and it is thought that the $3,000.00 pledged by the Business Men's Club will be subscribed this week. With the aid of the U. S. Government, the Fiscal Courts of Bath and Montgomery counties and the private subscriptions it looks like the undertaking will be successful.

Prewitt Browne Killed.

Prewitt Browne, young son of Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Browne, of Winchester, was killed while playing baseball at Oxford, Mississippi. Mr. Browne is survived by a half-brother, Dr. Isaac H. Browne, and a half-sister, Mrs. J. W. Chambers.

Mrs. Browne was with her son at Oxford, who has been engaged in farming there for the last year, but his father was in Winchester and received the telegram announcing his untimely death.

Uncle of Mrs. W. Hoffman Wood Dies at Paris.

Mr. Horton L. Whaley, aged 64 years, died at a hospital in Paris Friday night. Death was caused by paralysis of the brain. He was an uncle of Mrs. W. Hoffman Wood, of this city, who, with her husband attended the funeral at Paris Sunday.

Mr. Wood returned home Monday night, but Mrs. Wood will remain in Paris for several days.

Horse Falls on Father of D. J. Chandler at Paintsville.

Mr. D. J. Chandler, the popular photographer, received a message Monday stating a horse had thrown his father and fallen on him. He is 65 years of age and was so badly injured little hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Mr. Chandler left immediately to be at the bedside of his father.

The Fair Dance.

The annual Fair dance was given at Trimble's Hall Thursday evening. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion and it was a delightful and much-enjoyed affair. A saxophone orchestra furnished the music and a large crowd of young people from a distance was in attendance.

PROF. M. J. GOODWIN

Resigns as Supt. of Schools to Take Effect in September.

Also Withdraws From Race For Re-election to Same Office.

Prof. M. J. Goodwin, who for the past eight years has been Superintendent of Schools of Montgomery county and who was a candidate for re-election before the August primary, has tendered his resignation as Superintendent and withdraws from the race for re-election. His card announcing his action is as follows:

TO MY FRIENDS AND SUPPORTERS:

Having been tendered a position with a more satisfactory salary and less onerous duties, I have resigned the office of County Superintendent of Schools, and also withdraw my candidacy for re-election at the primary, Aug. 2, 1913. I very gratefully thank all my friends for their loyal interest in my candidacy.

Respectfully,
M. J. Goodwin.

Prof. Goodwin handed his resignation to Judge McCormick to take effect September 8th, and Miss Georgie Sledd, opponent of Prof. Goodwin for re-election, will probably succeed him. The withdrawal of Mr. Goodwin leaves the track clear to Miss Sledd's election this fall.

The action of Prof. Goodwin in withdrawing from the Superintendent's race and resigning that office is a big surprise to his supporters.

He has been elected principal of the County High School and will begin his duties September 8th. This position was held last year by Prof. Bowlds, who was expected to return here this fall.

Mrs. Scott Entertains.

Mrs. Joe Hill Scott entertained a number of young people at her home on Winn street last Tuesday evening in honor of her two visitors, Miss Kathryn Edwards, of Madison county, and Mr. Scott's sister, Miss Pansy Scott, of Nicholas county.

Camp Meeting.

The annual Camp Meeting of the Church of God will begin August 1st and last until August 10th, at the camp grounds, on Winn avenue, Winchester, Ky. The public is cordially invited.

Respectfully,
EARL W. SENFF,
County Attorney.

POULTRY SHOW AT LEXINGTON

Will Be Big Feature of Blue Grass Fair.

TWENTY SILVER CUPS DONATED

Premiums Will Be Awarded by Judge T. M. Campbell of Darlington, Ind. Pigeon Department to Be Under Management of Special Committee and Exhibits Will Be Judged by Well Known Boston Fancier.

The Blue Grass Fair is a member of the American Poultry Association, and the exhibit in this large and important department will be governed by the rules of that association. This is a guarantee of equal rights and justice to all.

A classification embodying premiums for over 300 classes of poultry and pigeons has been prepared, and the management expects this year to be, as usual, a great show.

In addition to the cash premiums, the Blue Grass Fair and a number of merchants of Lexington have donated 20 handsome silver cups, 10 for poultry and 10 for pigeons.

Mr. T. M. Campbell of Darlington, Ind., has been engaged to judge the poultry classes.

Heretofore the pigeon department has been under the management of the poultry department, but through the interest of the wideawake pigeon breeders of this section the management of the Blue Grass Fair has appointed a committee of the foremost pigeon breeders of this section and placed the pigeon department in their hands, which assures a big show under proper management.

Mr. George Feather of Boston, Mass., has been engaged as judge and a winning here will mean as much as at any state fair in the country. Come, bring your birds and help us to make this the largest and most successful show in the South. If you can not come yourself, send your birds, and we assure you they will get the proper care and attention.

Birds will be cooped in standard uniform coops, and one bird to the section, for which the small sum of 5 cents per bird will be charged. This assures no fighting or ragged birds at the end of the show. Every attention will be given birds not accompanied by owners, so, in making an entry here, you can rest assured that your birds will be well cared for.

"The Shadow of the Cross" Secured for Art Lovers.

Lovers of art and those interested in phenomena will have an opportunity of a life time when "The Shadow of the Cross," the great unfinished, mysterious painting, is placed on exhibition at the Blue Grass Fair this year.

Seen in the light, there is a full length standing figure of the Christ, one hand resting across his breast, the other hanging by his side. Of all the famous paintings of the Saviour, perhaps none other so conveys the clearness of his realization, the pathos of his resignation, and he brings in nearer touch than ever before the peace vouchsafed to all mankind.

Seen in the dark, the figure of Christ appears to be walking in the pale moonlight, an effect of light which no human hand can paint, and now one feels himself in the presence of the man as he was in the Garden of Gethsemane. Above and behind the figure hovers a dark cross, and this is what first suggested the famous title, "The Shadow of the Cross."

At the World's Fair, St. Louis, in Cormack's chapel, in the Irish village, the painting registered more paid admissions than any attraction at the fair. It received a gold medal. The daily papers were pleased to state, "It is the only real novelty at the World's Fair." It also received gold medals at the Jamestown Exposition and the Alaskan-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle, Wash.

SPEED PROGRAM

Running Races Provided For Each Day of Blue Grass Fair.

An excellent speed program has been arranged for the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington, week of Aug. 11 to 16.

On each of the six days there will be running races and harness racing on every day but Saturday. The two-year-old stake, to be contested during the week, closed with 19 entries, including nearly all the best in training in Kentucky. This race has always been one of the best races of the year for two-year-olds and this should prove no exception to the rule.

There will be a 2:16 trot, a 2:20 pace, also a 2:25 trot and a 2:22 trot.

Rules of the National Trotting association will govern the races. In addition there will be pony races, mule races, novelty races and others to be announced later.

Ky. Tuberculosis Commission.

The people who ask fool questions are often in evidence about tuberculosis exhibits as well as other similar places. Not long ago a man decidedly under the influence of liquor went into a tuberculosis exhibit in Kentucky, evidently with the intention of finding some sort of justification for his personal habits.

"Well, if a man will drink enough whiskey, won't that protect him?"

"No, that is even worse. A person who is a constant user of alcoholic drinks is rendered more susceptible to the attacks of tuberculosis and all other germ diseases than the total abstainer."

Apparently very much crest-fallen, the visitor left and is now compelled to find some other excuse for his habits to render to his wife.

KENTUCKIANS' HOME-COMING

ONE MILLION FORMER RESIDENTS INVITED TO ATTEND GREAT CELEBRATION.

RAILROADS OFFER LOW RATES

Perry's Victory on Lake Erie, Battle of Thames and Massacre of River Raisin To Be Reproduced in Fire-works and Sham Battles.

One million expatriated Kentuckians and their children, even to the fourth and fifth generations, have been invited to return to Louisville to participate in the Perry's Victory Centennial Celebration, to be held in that city seven days, beginning September 29. Those particularly invited are the descendants of Kentucky soldiers and sailors of the War of 1812, and it is estimated that 75 per cent of native-born Kentuckians and the descendants of those born in Kentucky in the past century are eligible to participate in such a celebration. Approximately one million people now living in other states are included in the "list of those invited."

The purpose of the Louisville celebration is to commemorate not only Perry's victory on Lake Erie but all other events of the war of 1812. However, in particular honor of Commodore Perry a special attraction in the Louisville celebration will be the reunion of the Perry family, regardless of kinship. Everybody by the name of "Perry" will be invited to this special entertainment and those who expect to attend are requested to notify Edwin Perry at the Louisville headquarters.

GEONER ISAAC SHELBY, OF KENTUCKY

Who in person led the victorious forces in the Battle of the Thames.

The Kentucky Association, which has in charge the Louisville celebration, has given an order for a quarter of a million ancestry certificates to be handsomely engraved, and which will be filled in and given away as souvenirs to descendants of Kentucky soldiers and sailors of the War of 1812. Another entertainment in their honor will be a mammoth reception, at which refreshments will be served and opportunity provided for public addresses. For the few remaining actual sons and daughters a banquet will be given. A great ball will be given in the First Regiment Armory, which has a capacity of 20,000 for them.

Forty per cent of the white male population of Kentucky engaged in the War of 1812, consequently forty per cent of the succeeding generation were really sons and daughters of that war, and, estimating that one-half of them intermarried with families which did not participate in the war, sixty per cent of the third generation were grandchildren of the war, and in similar manner at least seventy-five per cent and probably as high as ninety per cent of the fourth and incoming fifth generations are descendants of Kentuckians who fought in that war.

It is estimated that in the state of Kentucky alone one million men, women and children are eligible to participate in the proposed reunion, and it is estimated that another million now living outside of Kentucky are eligible to participate.

During the week of the celebration in Louisville spectacular free events, including features on a mammoth scale not heretofore given with any American celebration, will be provided every afternoon and evening. Pilgrimages to notable historic scenes of interest may be made in the mornings. In addition to free attractions there will be scores of the highest priced amusement concessions that can be secured on the American continent.

The railroads in a radius of 500 miles of Louisville have been asked to make a rate for the celebration week and immediately preceding and following that week of one cent a mile. Railroads running out of Louisville probably will give low rates to other points in Kentucky, so that former Kentuckians who live a great distance can visit their old homes as well as attend the Louisville celebration.

Local committees are preparing an 1812 museum, in which they solicit the loan of any souvenir or relic of the War of 1812, providing the transportation at their expense, and guaranteeing that articles loaned for the week will be returned to owners. This museum for the time being will undoubtedly be the most valuable collection in America.

Mission Society Organized.

The City Mission Society of Mt. Sterling was organized at a meeting at the Christian church Tuesday evening over which Rev. B. C. Horton presided as chairman. A splendid constitution was adopted looking to the betterment of the moral and social conditions of the city. The motto of the new society is "A Cleaner and Better Mt. Sterling." Any person contributing $3.00 annually may become a member. The regular meeting of the organization is on the first Thursday evening of each month at the Christian church. Capt. C. H. Petry was elected president of the society; John S. Frazer, vice-president; J. Y. Rogers, secretary and W. H. Strossman, treasurer. Members of various committees were selected and a campaign for better conditions morally and socially will be inaugurated at once.

CELEBRATION IN LOUISVILLE

KENTUCKY METROPOLIS WILL COMMEMORATE INCIDENTS IN WAR OF 1812.

HUNDRED YEARS OF PEACE

Battles Which Kentuckians Won and Massacres in Which They Suffered Will Be Reproduced in Fireworks and Shams on Land and Water.

A week's celebration, which Louisvillians declare will be the greatest and most spectacular in the history of celebrations in America, will be held in the Kentucky metropolis for seven days, commencing September 29, and will be the climax of a series of celebrations held in a dozen lake cities, to commemorate the sufferings and victories of American arms in the War of 1812 as well as to focus attention on the achievements of a century of peace. The crucial and decisive engagement of the War of 1812 was the battle of the Thames, fought and won on Canadian soil October 5, 1813. The series of celebrations, which will be held in America will close in Louisville, October 5, 1913, and just one hundred years from the hour that Col. Richard M. Johnston, afterward Vice President of the United States, slew the Indian chief Tecumseh, President Woodrow Wilson will probably be addressing a crowd of 100,000 people in Louisville, the home of many of the troops who fought in the battle of the Thames.

Kentucky was assigned the closing and choice date of the celebration because of the distinguished part played by the Kentuckians in the War of 1812. Kentucky began to play her part in the generation before the war opened, when she sent Gen. George Rogers Clark and other Louisville soldiers into the hostile wilderness which they wrested from the French and Indians and out of which was afterward carved the great States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Kentucky was the last state which could have benefited from the war, inasmuch as it was brought about chiefly by the British impression of American seamen, none of whom were Kentuckians, whereas should war prevail the unfriendly Indians on the frontier of the border states could be expected to commit atrocities from which Kentucky had already received the name "Dark and Bloody Ground."

However, it was chiefly Henry Clay, in the Kentucky Congressional Delegation that forced President Madison to declare the second war with Great Britain, and Kentucky furnished

forty per cent of her fighting population to go into that war, and at the close of the war of the listed dead more than eighty per cent were the names of Kentuckians. Kentucky troops to a man were massacred at the River Raisin and again at the first attack on Fort Meigs.

When the time came to man Perry's new-hewn ships, he selected Kentuckians unaccustomed to the motion of the lakes to mount into the insecure rigging and from that vantage point, with their practiced eye and unerring aim, fired down upon the British and won the battle of Lake Erie. Practically every officer and soldier in the battle of the Thames was a Kentuckian, excepting alone Gen. William Henry Harrison, who, however, held his commission as Major-General from the Kentucky legislature. The charge of the Forlorn Hope, about the briefest, most terrible and most heroic attack narrated in the annals of warfare, consisted exclusively of Kentucky soldiers when nineteen of them and their twenty horses went down to certain death. It was the Kentucky sharpshooters who are credited with having won the battle of New Orleans after the war had in reality closed.

Kentucky proposes to reproduce most of these scenes of the war of 1812 in the Louisville celebration. The battle of the Thames will be reproduced on land in Cherokee Park, topographically situated similar to the land on which was fought the battle of the Thames, and every detail of the sham battle will be as nearly historically correct as can be done.

Louisville will take advantage of her

magnificent river frontage in order to celebrate suitably the battle of

Lake Erie. The actual battle will be depicted in a gorgeous entertainment

of fireworks and all morning and all

afternoon preceding the engagement

there will be boat races, life saving feats and aquatic sports. A historical pageant, depicting various scenes of the war of 1812 will also include a magnificent floral parade, such as

made Louisville famous a year ago,

and will include civic and military

parades many miles in length. Drills

and exercises by 10,000 costumed school children will be held in the

First Regiment Armory; a mammoth

reception will be given to the descendants of Kentucky soldiers and sailors of the war of 1812, and a series of costumed balls will be given in their honor.

Exceedingly low railroad rates,

EVaded the Law.

The Pious Mussulman Artist Painted Only Dead Birds.

According to one of the tenets of the Mohammedan religion, it is a sin to make a picture of any living thing. The elaborate decorations of the palaces and mosques of the east are almost exclusively made up of ingeniously interplaced geometric designs, arabesques or flowers, intermixed with sentences of the Koran.

There is a belief among the Musulmans that at the day of judgment Allah will demand that the artist who has made the image of a living thing shall endow that image with life and that, failing to do this, the artist will be sent to perdition for his sin.

A gentleman who visited the mosque in Algiers found that the tiles with which the building is decorated, which are very old and very beautiful, are adorned with flights of birds. He expressed surprise at this and asked if the command against such representation were a modern edict.

"Oh, no," answered the pious Algerian to whom he addressed the question. "These are not pictures of living birds."

"But they are painted as if flying across the tiles," the other said in some astonishment.

"Yes," the Mussulman replied, "but do you not see about the neck of each there is a fine black line? That is to show that the artist painted only dead birds, and the command of the Koran is not violated."—London Chronicle.

Kentucky was assigned the closing and choice date of the celebration because of the distinguished part played by the Kentuckians in the War of 1812. Kentucky began to play her part in the generation before the war opened, when she sent Gen. George Rogers Clark and other Louisville soldiers into the hostile wilderness which they wrested from the French and Indians and out of which was afterward carved the great States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Kentucky was the last state which could have benefited from the war, inasmuch as it was brought about chiefly by the British impression of American seamen, none of whom were Kentuckians, whereas should war prevail the unfriendly Indians on the frontier of the border states could be expected to commit atrocities from which Kentucky had already received the name "Dark and Bloody Ground."

However, it was chiefly Henry Clay, in the Kentucky Congressional Delegation that forced President Madison to declare the second war with Great Britain, and Kentucky furnished

forty per cent of her fighting population to go into that war, and at the close

of the war of the listed dead more

than eighty per cent were the names of Kentuckians. Kentucky troops to a man were massacred at the River Raisin and again at the first attack on Fort Meigs.

When the time came to man Perry's new-hewn ships, he selected Kentuckians unaccustomed to the motion of the lakes to mount into the insecure rigging and from that vantage point, with their practiced eye and unerring aim, fired down upon the British and won the battle of Lake Erie. Practically every officer and soldier in the battle of the Thames was a Kentuckian, excepting alone Gen. William Henry Harrison, who, however, held his commission as Major-General from the Kentucky legislature. The charge of the Forlorn Hope, about the briefest, most terrible and most heroic attack narrated in the annals of warfare, consisted exclusively of Kentucky soldiers when nineteen of them and their twenty horses went down to certain death. It was the Kentucky sharpshooters who are credited with having won the battle of New Orleans after the war had in reality closed.

Kentucky proposes to reproduce most of these scenes of the war of 1812 in the Louisville celebration. The battle of the Thames will be reproduced on land in Cherokee Park, topographically situated similar to the land on which was fought the battle of the Thames, and every detail of the sham battle will be as nearly historically correct as can be done.

Louisville will take advantage of her

magnificent river frontage in order

to celebrate suitably the battle of

Lake Erie. The actual battle will be

depicted in a gorgeous entertainment

of fireworks and all morning and all

afternoon preceding the engagement

there will be boat races, life saving

feats and aquatic sports. A historical pageant, depicting various scenes of the war of 1812 will also include a

magnificent floral parade, such as

made Louisville famous a year ago,

and will include civic and military

parades many miles in length. Drills

and exercises by 10,000 costumed school children will be held in the

First Regiment Armory; a mammoth

reception will be given to the descendants

of Kentucky soldiers and sailors of

the war of 1812, and a series of costumed balls will be given in their honor.

Exceedingly low railroad rates,

probably as low as one cent per mile,

miles of Louisville, will be granted and efforts are being made to secure

SHOULD BE THE LAW HERE.

The State of Wisconsin proved itself one of the most progressive states in the union when it recently enacted two laws. One makes a health certificate, from a reputable physician, a legal prerequisite to the issue of a marriage license. This law recognizes the necessity of excluding from the marital relations, all those who are mentally weak and physically infirm or unclean. The other bill provides for the sterilization of the feeble-minded, epileptic and criminally insane.

A strict observance of these laws will prevent much human suffering and immeasurably improve future generations.

Mr. Edward Amherst Ott, in probably the ablest lecture ever heard in this city, at the recent Chautauqua, strongly endorsed these laws and urged their adoption everywhere in the United States.

In this issue, appears an open letter from the County Attorney to the election officers, candidates and voters of Montgomery county, defining the qualifications of an elector in the approaching primary. As this is the only point upon which we may reasonably expect confusion, all persons desirous of seeing a clean, legal and orderly primary conducted are urged to carefully peruse this letter. In recent years, due largely to a quickened public conscience, elections in this county have been freer from irregularities than in the past, and we hope to see next Saturday's primary so conducted as to reflect credit and not dishonor upon our community.

THE RIGHT TO VOTE

The right to vote is the highest prerogative of citizenship. It is both a sacred privilege and a great responsibility. Not to exercise it is to show one's lack of patriotism. The success of free institutions depends upon it. To give one's suffrage to a fellow-citizen is to pay him the highest compliment possible, while to exercise it unwisely is to do one's country an irreparable injury. Sentiment should play no part in its exercise and the most hurtful brand of charity known is the giving of public office to men unfit for public service. We repeat, the question is not does he need it, but is he competent, sober and honest? These are the salient criterions upon which every candidate should be judged.

During the balance of the week, the air will be surcharged with all kinds of false reports of "combinations," "withdrawals," and every other kind of which the campaign liar's prolific mind can conceive. Remember our warning and be on guard. To be deceived at the eleventh hour is unpardonable stupidity.

Some Doings.

County Judge R. C. Tartar, in company with his brother, Chris Tartar, of Somerset, went to the office of Milton Coke, editor of the Somerset Herald, and undertook to command Mr. Coke, who has the contract for printing the primary ballots for Pulaski county, to print ballots for women to vote for Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Coke informed them that he was receiving his orders from the County Court Clerk, C. M. Langdon. Judge Tartar repaired to his office and issued a warrant of arrest against Editor Coke, charging him with breach of the peace. Some hours later he entered six summary judgments against Coke for using, as alleged profane language in his presence and hearing and issued capias returnable immediately. Coke in the meantime secured an injunction against Judge Tartar, the policeman to whom capias had been delivered, and the jailer, enjoining them from proceeding further under the judgments on the ground that they were void because the fines had not been instantly imposed by the Judge while in the presence of Coke and because the Judge had already chosen to proceed under a warrant of arrest.

Judge R. C. Tartar entered a fine of $30 and thirty hours in jail against C. M. Langdon, County Court Clerk, for refusing to obey his order in limiting Republican ballots to not more than 50 per cent. than was cast last November. Circuit Judge B. J. Betherum has made an order directing the clerk to print the number demanded by the government authority of each of the political parties and had set aside the order made by County Judge Tartar, because made at a time when the Circuit Judge was in the county.

Judge Tartar is the Progressive candidate for County Judge and declares that his orders shall be obeyed, if he has to call out the militia, while Judge Betherum is equally positive his orders shall be obeyed. The outcome is awaited with much interest.

County Court Clerk Langdon and Mr. Coke, who is printing ballots, are obeying the order of Circuit Judge Betherum.

The defendant showed no sign of emotion but sat quietly as the verdict was read and after a few moments engaged in a whispered conversation with his wife.

BURLEY COMPANY WINS BIG VICTORY

Judge Harbeson At Covington Refuses to Appoint Receiver for Society.

In an opinion covering ten type-written pages, Judge Matt Harbeson, in Kenton County Circuit Court, handed down an order declining to appoint a receiver for the Burley Tobacco Company in the case of Elmer B. Stansifer, on behalf of the stockholders of the Burley Tobacco Company and on behalf of the Burley Tobacco Society, against Clarence LeBus and about fifty other defendants. The order of the court was the motion of the plaintiff for the appointment of a receiver is overruled. Judge Harbeson's opinion is an interesting compilation of the various phases of the case heard last week. He gives a history of the formation of the Burley Tobacco Company, organized to fight the so-called "Tobacco Trust." He said in part:

"There is no evidence introduced which would indicate that the assets of the Burley Tobacco Company, consisting of factory, storehouses, looseleaf warehouses and stock on hand, is of less value than $1,500,000, while there is evidence to the effect that these assets may be worth nearly $2,000,000, while its indebtedness is only $518,000, or less than one-third of its assets. In these investments there is no evidence of any unfair dealing or even bad business judgement, but, on the contrary, indicates the same attention and care upon the part of the defendants that would be given to their own funds.

"According to the evidence the assets of the company are not merely much larger than its debts, but also larger than the capital stock paid in by the defendants. The evidence, therefore, fails to sustain the allegation that there is any danger of loss or injury resulting to the plaintiffs or the Burley Tobacco Company by reason of the continuation of its affairs in the hands of the defendants until the election is held for the Board of Directors."

The suit was watched with considerable interest throughout Kentucky, where there over 40,000 stockholders in the Burley Tobacco Company, who by their membership to this are also stockholders in the Burley Tobacco Company.

Instructions to Voters.

While the ballots for the August primary do not contain the circle as used in the general election, voters are cautioned that to mark the "X" at the head of a ticket will spoil the ballot. No one should make such a mistake. The time to mark under the rooster is on next November. The voter must make the mark in the square after each candidate he wishes to vote for. If he makes his mark in the square for more than one man in any race, he loses his ballot. Don't stamp under the rooster this time, but follow the instructions above.

Generally Fair Weather Forecast.

Except for local thunderstorms, generally fair weather is predicted for the present week by the Weather Bureau, and no unusually high temperatures are expected.

"A moderate depression now extending from the lower Missouri Valley northeastward to Lake Superior," said the weekly bulletin, "will move eastward, attended by local thunder storms during the early days of the week from the Ohio Valley and lower lake region eastward. The showers will be followed by rising pressure with fair weather that will probably continue during the remainder of the week.

"Over the central and western portions of the country generally fair weather will prevail, although local thunder storms are probable early in the week over both slopes of the Central and Southern Rocky Mountains. A cool wave that now covers the Northwest will spread Eastward and Southward in modified form."

Must Find Substitute for Sole Leather.

S. W. Anderson, a prominent leather man, in addressing the Shoe and Leather Finders convention declares that the leather finders of the country are prepared to pay a fortune and be specified that they would not consider $500,000 a fortune—to find a substitute for heavy leather which is used in the soles of shoes.

Mr. Anderson declared that the time is coming when there will be little or no sole leather, and it is absolutely necessary that an adequate substitute be found, he declared, he had no idea where, but that unless it is found people will have to go back centuries and be prepared to do without shoes.

What's Your Bid?

"A Kansas editor has notified the merchants of his town that he will soon be in need of a pair of shoes, a new shirt, and a sack of flour, and will call for bids on these items, as that is the custom of the merchants when they want four dollars worth of printing." Raising of Calves

On Skimmed Milk.

Calves raised on skinned milk can develop into first class dairy cows. On hundreds of farms, skinned milk constitutes the main portion of the feed of the young calf and such calves make as good cows as those receiving whole milk.

It costs a great deal less to raise a calf on skinned milk than on whole milk. By this plan the cream can be sold and made into butter and the proceeds added to the farm income.

Calves do well on skinned milk whether skinned by hand or with a cream separator, but skinned milk from the separator has the advantage of being fresh and warm and sweet when fed. Where as many as three or four cows are milked regularly, a separator will prove a paying proposition. It saves a great deal of time and labor in setting the milk away for the cream to rise and in cleaning milk vessels.

Feeding skinned milk develops a great stomach in the calf. This is exceedingly desirable because, after a big udder, the most valuable point in a cow is a large capacity paunch in which she may store her feed. Every great milk cow without exception has a large barrel.

The calf may be allowed to remain with its mother five or six days, at which time the milk is usually fit to be saved. It should then be taken away from the cow and if possible out of her sight and hearing.

During the first week after removal from its mother, it should receive about nine pounds of milk a day, divided into two or three feeds, preferably into three. After this, skinned milk should begin gradually to replace the whole milk so that by the time the calf is three weeks old it is getting skinned milk only, the quantity varying from 12 to 18 pounds a day according to the size and thriftiness of the calf. A teaspoonful of blood flour added to each feed of skinned milk adds to its feeding value and prevents scours. The skinned milk should always be fed warm, 98 to 100 degrees or blood heat being about right.

The bucket from which the calf is fed should be washed and scalded after each feeding. The use of filthy slop buckets and unclean and sour milk will surely result in unthrifty calves and in a great deal of trouble with scours.

Within three or four weeks the calf will begin to eat bran and shelled corn, and will nibble at hay. A small amount of these materials should therefore be provided. Good, clean clover or alfalfa hay gives the best results. Care should be taken not to give too much grain. A safe rule is to give a little less than the calf will clean up.

At the age of ten to twelve weeks, if a good pasture is available, the calf will be able to get a living from grass. When this is the case the skinned milk may be withdrawn. Care should be taken at this point to avoid stunting the calf and enough grain should be given to keep it in a thrifty, growing condition, but not fat.

Teaching the calf to drink out of a bucket requires a little patience. Gently back the calf into a corner of the stall, stand astride the youngster, wet the fingers in the milk and let the calf get a taste of the milk. Then gently lower the hand into the pail, the calf meanwhile sucking the fingers. Allow it to continue sucking the hand and it will meanwhile be sucking or drinking the milk. Then gently remove the hand and the calf will continue to drink the milk. Sometimes it is necessary to allow the calf to go 24 hours without food before it will allow itself to be fed from the bucket.

Teaching the calf to eat grain may be accomplished by daubing a little bran on the nose after it has finished drinking its milk. In licking this off it will learn to eat the feed, a small quantity of which should be placed before it. It will learn to eat hay without any special encouragement.

State Tuberculosis Commissioner.

The tuberculosis worker on an afternoon train speeding from New York to Washington, and reading an article in the Sunday magazine section of a New York paper. The article, by some unknown physician, was an attack on the entire anti-tuberculosis campaign. The author maintained that the entire campaign of education which has been conducted throughout the United States in the past decade is worse than useless because it has caused such fear of the disease as to make it increase in its ravages. All the figures gathered by the various city and state health departments, which prove the exact opposite to be the case, he blithely disregarded.

The tuberculosis worker read until his patience was exhausted, threw the paper across the aisle and cursed under his breath. His seat mate, an utter stranger, inquired the cause of his agitation; and the tuberculosis worker summed up briefly the doctor's argument.

"That doctor is a blank fool," replied the stranger. "A cousin of mine happened to attend one of those exhibits in New York, noticed that he had himself some of the symptoms of the disease, was examined, and found that he really did have in the beginning stage. He had plenty of money, so he went to a private sanatorium in Western North Carolina and came back a few months later a well man. How he could ever have discovered the disease in time to be cured, without having seen some exhibit of that sort, is more than I can guess."

REST!

If the doctor says "Tuberculosis," follow exactly his orders in regard to ventilation, food, exercise and rest. He knows better than you do. This is especially true in regard to the rest and exercise, which have to be carefully gauged for each patient and each stage of the disease. Until the disease is checked and marked improvement in general condition and increased weight are noticed, almost absolute rest is essential. The disease is one that destroys the tissues of the body and uses up its energy rapidly. If you persist in using up your energy by work and exercise, the body has nothing left to fight with. Beware what the family medical books prescribe in the way of exercise for consumptives. No one prescription will answer for all cases, and this may be the one where their general prescription will send you to the grave-yard. If your responsibilities seem to make absolute rest for two or three or four months impossible, just remember that the progress of the disease will soon force you to it without the hope of recovery.

FOOD!

The three things necessary to cure consumption, beyond the advice and supervision of the physician or nurse, are fresh air, rest and food. A patient must have fresh air twenty-four hours a day, and rest or exercise according to the orders of the doctor. The most important items in the diet are eggs and milk, because they contain a large proportion of easily digested nutriment. A few years ago, the doctors reasoned that if a little of this highly nutritious diet in small bulk was good, a lot would be better; and so, in many cases, the patients were stuffed until their stomachs did not work properly.

Now, the question of diet is better understood; only so much of milk and eggs are given as the patient can easily digest. Of course, other foods are necessary, and are to be used in strict accordance with the doctor's orders. It is his business to know what things the patient can digest. A Pennsylvania consumptive, who tried to live largely on a diet of boiled ham and cabbage, experienced the natural result of a steady decline. Remember, then, if you are a consumptive, to follow the doctor's orders strictly in regard to the diet; and if he does not prescribe a considerable use of milk and eggs, go to another doctor.

Prosperity For One Is Prosperity For All

By HOLLAND.

If you are a farmer the value of your farm depends on the value of the adjoining farm, and the value of both depends on the value of property in the nearest village or town. Farms near prosperous towns are always more valuable than those near dead or dying settlements. And this is true without regard to the fertility of the soil.

The farmer depends on the town just as the town depends for prosperity on the farmer. Their destinies are interlinked; their interests are common. What hurts one hurts the other. Poor crops will affect the city resident who does not even raise radishes, and depressed business affairs affect the farmer who depends on soil, weather and muscle for his living.

Money sent to mail order houses helps to turn thriving towns into dead hamlets. It thereby depreciates the value of farm land. It decreases the population of the towns that most directly use the products of the farm. It lowers the price for butter and eggs, for chickens and for fruits and vegetables.

So, Mr. Farmer, if you deal with a mail order house in a distant city you are taking a course that takes from the value of your farm, that renders it less desirable as a place of residence and less productive of profit. You can't follow a system that injures your neighbors without being compelled to shoulder some of the expense yourself. Take the safer course and SPEND YOUR MONEY WHERE YOU MAKE IT.

Winchester Postmaster Resigns "For the Good of the Service."

Following several weeks' efforts on behalf of the Postoffice Department to have him relinquish his office, by threats to remove him and by entreaties to resign, Postmaster John G. White, of Winchester, Ky., submitted his resignation to Postmaster General Burleson through Senator W. O. Bradley, of Kentucky, Monday. The resignation is to take effect at once.

"Charges of neglect of duty and inhuman treatment of his daughter were filed against White with former Postmaster General Hitchcock more than a year ago. The charges were dropped at the time, the Postmaster General deciding they were unsubstantiated. Recently the charges were renewed. White refused to resign, and Senator Bradley backed him up in his decision, insisting that he be allowed to serve out his term.

"Senator Ollie M. James and Representative J. C. Cantrill, of Kentucky, however, went ahead with plans to have a Democrat named to succeed him. Cantrill suggested a primary and Sam F. King, of Winchester, was designated in this way for the office. Cantrill recommended his appointment to Postmaster General Burleson.

"Several days ago Burleson wrote a letter to White, telling him his removal was desired for the good of the service and that he would be allowed to resign without reference being made to the charges. He was given until Monday to make up his mind. Upon the advice of Senator Bradley he submitted his resignation. King's nomination will be sent to the Senate in a few days."

Mr. Bacon—What did you think of that hat Miss Style wore to church this morning?

Mr. Bacon—I didn't notice Miss Style's hat.

"It's funny you didn't see it. She sat directly in front of you."

"Well, suppose she did. Do you suppose I go to church to look at women's hats?"

"Well dear, it's the same hat Miss Style wore to the theater night before last, and which you claimed obstructed your view of the stage."

CROP REPORT

Issued July 10th, 1913, for Kentucky.

The splendid prospects for good crops as reported on June 10, have been greatly lessened owing to the severe drought throughout the State. In some places local showers have been reported and crops in these localities are looking in splendid condition. Central and Western Kentucky seem to be suffering more from the dry and hot weather prevailing. The condition of wheat shows 90 per cent which is an increase over last month's report of 5 per cent. Wheat is reported as not yielding so many bushels per acre, but the quality is extra good. The condition of rye also shows a higher average than was anticipated a month ago, same being 89 per cent.

The corn crop is 98 per cent while the condition shows 91 per cent. The acreage of oats is given as 88 per cent and the condition 74 per cent, slightly lower than last month's crop indicated it would be, which condition was reported as 79 per cent. Dark tobacco shows an acreage of 64 per cent, while the condition is 75½ per cent. Burley Tobacco reports 80 per cent acreage and 79 condition. 94 per cent is the acreage for potatoes; the dry weather has had such an effect that the condition shows only 76 per cent, as against 93 June 1st. The sweet potato acreage is 93 per cent, while the condition is 89 per cent. Bluegrass seed crop will be exceedingly short this year, and owing to the continued drought, pasture conditions generally are short. The condition of grasses is given as follows: Bluegrass, 74 per cent; Clover, 78 per cent; Alfalfa, 87 per cent and Orchard Grass 81 per cent. The acreage of Cow Peas is reported at 90 per cent, while the condition is 89 per cent. The acreage of soy beans is 83 per cent and the condition 90 per cent. The garden conditions are only about 80 per cent, as the drought has greatly effected same. Young poultry is doing well, and the condition of chickens generally is 93 per cent.

The condition of the fruits of the State have all fallen below the prospects earlier in the season. Apples show 73 per cent as against 85 last month; peaches 70 per cent as against 78 last month; pears 55 per cent as against 61 last month; plum 64 per cent as against 67 last month; grapes 87 per cent as against 89 per cent last month, and blackberries 90 per cent showing a somewhat smaller crop than was reported earlier.

The disease known as catarhal fever or pink eye among horses, which has been prevalent in certain localities for some time is reported to be well in hand and no new outbreaks for the past ten days have been reported, and the localities suffering most from this disease are about cleared up. No new cases are reported.

Local rains have been reported in the following counties in which crops are looking in good condition: Shelby, Nelson, Kenton, Lawrence, Crittenden, Marshall, Caldwell, Graves, Jackson, Letcher and Laurel. Pasture and tobacco are reported as suffering the most from the lack of rain.

There has been a large corn crop planted and the reports are that it is generally clean and in good condition. If the drought is broken soon, there is every prospect of a bumper corn crop.

"If wars perfect the races, then the most belligerent nations should be the handsomest. But such is not the case. In fact, the contrary is true. The English are most certainly one of the handsomest people on earth. They are also the least warlike, since they alone, of all the European nations, have abolished military service."—War, by J. SMALL COUNTY HOSPITALS PROVIDED FOR KENTUCKY

FULTON COUNTY TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL, GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y.
This is a remodeled farmhouse. The entire cost, the small farm included, was about $9,500. It provides accommodation for 13 incipient cases in wards and 4 advanced cases in separate rooms.

The law creating the Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission at the last legislature provides also a plan for the building of small hospitals throughout the state for the proper treatment of tuberculosis. The plan in brief is as follows: The Fiscal Court of any county may declare that county a district for the purpose of building a hospital. Or, by petition, the question may be submitted to a vote of the people at any regular election, and, if carried, it is then the duty of the Fiscal Court to declare the county a district. Any group of counties touching one another may declare themselves a single district for this purpose by a vote at any general election which carries in each of the counties involved. Then, under certain restrictions in the law, the State Commission names a considerable group of citizens, men and women, of the county or counties involved, from which group the judges of these counties name a District Board of Tuberculosis Hospital Trustees. This Board then asks of the Fiscal Court funds to be raised in the regular levy of taxes. From these funds a site is selected, subject to the approval of the State Commission, and then the Board proceeds to erect the hospital. The State Commission is given a very general oversight of the future activities of the Board, and the construction and maintenance of the hospital.

Patients are to be received from the district, either free or for a weekly charge, according to their financial condition, and the cost of maintenance not met by these charges must be paid by the district.

This is not so expensive a plan as it looks.

After the construction of a reasonably substantial building for the purpose of administration, the cooking and serving of meals, and the housing of the nurses, the building or buildings for the actual housing of the consumptives can be more cheaply erected than those for any similar hospital purpose, because the patients are made to live and sleep in the open air, or on verandas; very small, cheaply constructed buildings are sufficient for the purpose. The whole campaign against tuberculosis is based, not on sympathy, but on economics. Practically all of the sufferers are between the ages of 15 and 50, nearly all of them housewives or wage-earners, and many of them the parents of children. You can serve your community and insure yourself in no better way than by advocating the building of such an institution. Every cent it costs is more than returned by the distress it relieves and the poverty it prevents.

While the fans, who had paid 25 cents admission and 10 cent additional to sit in the grandstand were nursing their disappointment, the "girl" who was playing in center field threw the ball all the way from deep center to the home plate. That aroused the fans' suspicion, which were confirmed when bold small boy slipped up behind the muscular blonde girl who was cavorting about third base and snatched the wig from "her" head.

Having drawn a huge crowd

"Bloomer Girls" Prove Men When Stripped of Wigs

Four thousand fans who had gone to the Union League Baseball Park, at Fifteenth and H. streets Northeast, to see a game between the "Bloomer Girls" and a team of young men from Locust Point, Md., Wednesday afternoon participated in what was almost a riot, when they learned that the "girls" were men disguised in wigs and feminine attire, says the Washington Post. In the rush and fight to get at the players and obtain a return of the gate receipts, one arrest was made, a policeman was struck with a brick and the uniforms of two other policemen were torn off their backs.

Having drawn a huge crowd

four weeks ago in the same park, the "Chicago Bloomer Girls" who have been touring the United States and Cuba, were advertised to play a return engagement last week, with the result that upward of 4,000 persons poured into the park.

They were disappointed,

however, when only three members of the bloomed team appeared to be women.

It was explained that the others couldn't play on Sunday.

CURIOUS CLOCKS.

Ingenious Schemes by Which They Mark the Passing Hours.

A Grenoble clockmaker, Antony Jacques, is responsible for the ingenious clock which he has named "Les Heures Bacchiques" ("The Hours of Bacchus"). One of the two drunken individuals is drowning in a glass of colored water simulating wine, while his equally helpless companion is barely able to hold out to him, by way of stupid drunken greeting, the bottle which they have emptied between them. In the body of this figure is secreted a magnet, which is attracted by the steel hand of the drowning disciple of Bacchus.

The two figures remain stationary, but the wineglass, with the hours painted in black on it, revolves so that while the floating figure remains suspended in the water, but motionless, the hours and quar-

Saws Without Teeth.

An explanation of the manner in which a soft steel disk revolving at high velocity cuts hard steel has recently been sought with the aid of microscopic inspection. The result corroborates the view hitherto held that the material acted upon is heated at the place of contact to the fusing point and then brushed away. The high temperature appears to be confined narrowly to the point of contact, so that a thin gash is cut. The temperature of the revolving disk does not rise so high because of the large surface area of the disk. The part of the disk in contact is continually changing, while the frictional energy is concentrated on a very small area of the material subjected to its action.

"Waiter!" The voice of the elderly man rose in accents of wrath from his table by the window.

"Yes, sir," replied the waiter, bustling forward. The customer swallowed several times quickly before he could command his voice. "Here, take—take this egg away!" he roared with an effort.

"Yes, sir," said the waiter obligingly as he approached the offending article. "And what shall I do with it, sir?" The elderly man rose menacingly in his chair.

"Do with it?" he bellowed. "Do with it? Wring its neck!"—National Food Magazine.
